August 9th St.Benedicta of the Cross, Edith Stein

A brilliant philosopher who stopped believing in God when she was 14, Edith Stein was so captivated by reading the autobiography of Teresa of Avila that she began a spiritual journey that led to her baptism in 1922. Twelve years later she imitated Saint Teresa by becoming a Carmelite, taking the name Teresa Benedicta of the Cross. Edith earned a doctorate in philosophy in 1916. She continued as a university teacher until 1922, when she moved to a Dominican school in Speyer; her appointment as lecturer at the Educational Institute of Munich ended under pressure from the Nazis. Sister Teresa Benedicta moved to the Carmelite monastery in Echt, Netherlands, in 1938. The Nazis occupied that country in 1940. In retaliation for being denounced by the Dutch bishops, the Nazis arrested all Dutch Jews who had become Christians. Teresa Benedicta and her sister Rosa, died in a gas chamber in Auschwitz on August 9, 1942.

JESUS IS TRANSFIGURED

At the transfiguration Jesus' fearful disciples watch as he is transformed and shines with heavenly glory. But what relationship can there be between Jesus' transfigured glory revealed on this mountain and the suffering he will endure on Golgotha? And what does it mean for the disciples to follow such a leader? The whole scene resonates with allusions to the Old Testament. It recalls Elijah's encounter with God on the holy mountain. It brings to mind the revelation at Mt. Sinai and the cloud of God's glory overshadowing both the mountain and the tent where Moses met with God. And it evokes Malachi 4, in which God commands the people to remember Moses' words and says that Elijah will be sent on a mission of restoration before the day of the LORD. The story of the transfiguration directs us away from trying to understand Jesus only as he is revealed in glory. It points us down the mountain and invites us to walk with Jesus into the suffering, hungry crowds. The divine voice commands us to listen to Jesus. But listening is more than hearing. As Jesus says in the Sermon on the Mount, building on the rock means not only hearing his words, but acting on them (Matthew 7:24). Hearing without obeying leads to catastrophe.

MATTHEW 17:1-9

En la transfiguración, los temerosos discípulos de Jesús observan cómo se transforma y brilla con gloria celestial. Pero, ¿qué relación puede haber entre la gloria transfigurada de Jesús revelada en este monte y el sufrimiento que soportará en el Gólgota? ¿Y qué significa para los discípulos seguir a un líder así? Toda la escena resuena con alusiones al Antiguo Testamento. Recuerda el encuentro de Elías con Dios en el monte santo. Recuerda la revelación en el monte Sinaí y la nube de la gloria de Dios que cubría tanto la montaña como la tienda donde Moisés se reunió con Dios. Y evoca Malaquías 4, en el que Dios manda al pueblo a recordar las palabras de Moisés y dice que Elías será enviado en una misión de restauración antes del día del SEÑOR. La historia de la transfiguración nos aleja de tratar de entender a Jesús solo cuando se revela en gloria. Nos señala hacia abajo de la montaña y nos invita a caminar con Jesús hacia las multitudes hambrientas y sufrientes. La voz divina nos ordena escuchar a Jesús. Pero escuchar es más que oír. Como dice Jesús en el Sermón de la Montaña, edificar sobre la roca significa no sólo escuchar sus palabras, sino actuar sobre ellas (Mateo 7:24). Oír sin
