Saint John Vianney's Story

A man with vision overcomes obstacles and performs deeds that seem impossible. John Vianney was a man with vision: He wanted to become a priest. But he had to overcome his meager formal schooling, which inadequately prepared him for seminary studies. His failure to comprehend Latin lectures forced him to discontinue. But his vision of being a priest urged him to seek private tutoring. After a lengthy battle with the books, John was ordained. Situations calling for "impossible" deeds followed him everywhere. As pastor of the parish at Ars, John encountered people who were indifferent and quite comfortable with their style of living. His vision led him through severe fasts and short nights of sleep. With Catherine Lassagne and Benedicta Lardet, he established La Providence, a home for girls. Only a man of vision could have such trust that God would provide for the spiritual and material needs of all those who came to make La Providence their home. His work as a confessor is John Vianney's most remarkable accomplishment. In the winter months he was to spend 11 to 12 hours daily reconciling people with God. In the summer months this time was increased to 16 hours. Unless a man was dedicated to his vision of a priestly vocation, he could not have endured this giving of self day after day. Many people look forward to retirement and taking it easy, doing the things they always wanted to do but never had the time. But John Vianney had no thoughts of retirement. As his fame spread, more hours were consumed in serving God's people. Even the few hours he would allow himself for sleep were disturbed frequently by the devil. Who, but a man with vision, could keep going with ever-increasing strength? In 1929, Pope Pius XI named him the patron of parish priests worldwide.

La historia de San Juan Vianney

Un hombre con visión supera los obstáculos y realiza acciones que parecen imposibles. John Vianney era un hombre con visión: quería convertirse en sacerdote. Pero tuvo que superar su escasa educación formal, que lo preparó inadecuadamente para los estudios del seminario. Su incapacidad para comprender las conferencias en latín lo obligó a suspenderlas. Pero su visión de ser sacerdote lo impulsó a buscar tutoría privada. Después de una larga batalla con los libros, John fue ordenado. Las situaciones que pedían hechos "imposibles" lo seguían a todas partes. Como párroco de la parroquia de Ars, John se encontró con personas indiferentes y bastante cómodas con su estilo de vida. Su visión lo llevó a través de ayunos severos y noches cortas de sueño. Con Catherine Lassagne y Benedicta Lardet, estableció La Providence, un hogar para niñas. Solo un hombre de visión podría tener tanta confianza en que Dios proveería para las necesidades espirituales y materiales de todos aquellos que vinieron a hacer de La Providence su hogar. Su trabajo como confesor es el logro más notable de John Vianney. En los meses de invierno debía pasar de 11 a 12 horas diarias reconciliando a las personas con Dios. En los meses de verano este tiempo se incrementó a 16 horas. A menos que un hombre estuviera dedicado a su visión de una vocación sacerdotal, no podría haber soportado esta entrega de sí mismo día tras día. Muchas personas esperan jubilarse y tomárselo con calma, haciendo las cosas que siempre quisieron hacer pero que nunca tuvieron tiempo. Pero John Vianney no pensaba en retirarse. A medida que su fama se extendió, se consumieron más horas sirviendo al pueblo de Dios. Incluso las pocas horas que se permitía dormir eran perturbadas con frecuencia por el diablo. ¿Quién, sino un hombre con visión, podría seguir adelante con una fuerza cada vez mayor? En 1929, el Papa Pío XI lo nombró patrón de los párrocos de todo el mundo.
